"The Dutch people feel very proud of Theodore Roosevelt," said Dr. H. C. Dresselhuys, director general of the prisons and reformatories of Holland, residing at The Hague, at the New Willard last night. Dr. Dresselhuys is here attending the Prison Congress. Continuing his observation on Col. Roosevelt he said: "Roosevelt is of Dutch blood, and there are Roosevelts to be found in Holland this day. They probably spell their names with a final 'd' instead of 't,' but the way Mr. Roosevelt spells his name is the old Dutch way.

"Col. Roosevelt at once captured the hearts of the people of Holland when, making his appearance at Amsterdam, he addressed them as 'countrymen.' It was a very clever introduction of himself. Aside from this, Roosevelt is regarded as a very strong character everywhere, and a man who is making history, not only in America, but in the whole world.' Discussing relations between Holland and Germany, the eminent Dutchman said that they are excellent.

"There is no idea of Germany entertaining any designs on Holland. Our country serves as a sort of buffer for Germany, should that country be embroiled in war with any other power. There is only one little difficulty between us, and that is that Germany has increased the tariff on our vegetables, cattle, and similar export articles. However, that has not in the least disturbed the splendid feelings which exist between the two countries. "It is really to be deplored that American and other newspapers periodically publish articles to the effect that the Queen's consort, Prince Henry, is not getting along harmoniously with Queen Wilhelmina. There never has been a word of truth in that. On the contratry, they are very deeply attached to each other. and the prince is very clever and is growing in popularity every day with the Dutch people.
